BOOM Library March BOOM ONE Update

BOOM Library has released the April 2025 update for its flagship BOOM ONE collection, adding over 600 new sound files, more than 2,700 individual sounds, and 17GB+ of high-quality content. This month's release offers an exciting combination of high-impact fire department recordings, unique electromagnetic field sounds, and a broad assortment of additional SFX to support a wide variety of professional audio projects.

FIRE DEPARTMENT: High-Stakes, High-Impact Sound Design

More than 90 authentic recordings capture the intensity and urgency of firefighting operations. This collection includes detailed recordings of a fire truck in motion, the mechanical burst of extinguishers, and gear in use - ideal for high-action, cinematic, and documentary soundscapes.

Content includes:

- Fire Truck
- Fire Extinguisher
- Fire Department Garage Door
- Oxygen Mask
- Fire Nozzle Pipe
- And more

ELECTROMAGNETIC FIELDS: The Hidden World of Electronic Noise

Over 90 recordings captured with a specialised EMF microphone reveal the invisible soundscapes generated by everyday electronic devices. Perfect for science fiction, horror, and abstract sound design, this collection brings eerie, pulsing, and otherworldly textures into your creative palette.
