Zoom Hessential Firmware Update

Zoom announces a new Firmware Updates for the H1essential, H4essential and H6essential Handy Recorders. Based on feedback from the recently conducted #Voice For Essential survey among users and creators worldwide, the update adds three key features:

- Input Gain Adjustment Function: By adjusting levels during recording, it significantly reduces the need for audio editing in post-production.
- AI Noise Reduction Function: By learning and reducing ambient environmental noise, it achieves quiet, clear recordings as if captured in a soundproof studio.
- MP3 Recording / MP3 Export Function: Enables recording in a compressed format that minimizes file size, making sharing recorded files even more convenient.

With these new tools, the Essential Series continues to evolve, helping musicians, podcasters, and filmmakers capture their best sound with ease. The new Firmware is available for free download on Zoom’s website (zoomcorp.com).
