Martin Audio’s Flagship WPL for Chopra Sound

Chopra Sound, the long-serving rental company based in Jaipur, has taken a major step forward by investing in 24 of Martin Audio’s flagship WPL line array enclosures. This will redefine large scale event production for the family business across the Indian north-west state of Rajasthan. Now in its 50th year the company placed the order - which also includes 16 SXH218 (2 x 18”) subwoofers and 10 iKON amplifiers - with VMT, Martin Audio’s exclusive Indian distributor. They, in turn, emphasise that the scale of the system enables Chopras to cover even the largest venues with ease, ensuring consistent clarity and articulation for every audience member. “This massive deployment gives them the capability to take on projects of unprecedented size without compromising quality,” they say.

“Choosing Martin Audio has given us a clear edge in the market,” believes Puneet Chopra, founder and director of Chopra Sound. “The WPL line arrays provide scale and clarity that impress clients, and the SXH218 subs bring power that audiences truly feel. With the stability of iKON iK42 amplifiers we now deliver consistent results, event after event. This system has strengthened our reputation for excellence, expanded our opportunities and positioned us for long-term growth.”

“We are proud to welcome Chopras into the Martin Audio family,” adds VMT director, Jeff Mandot. “Their choice reflects a relationship built on trust and shared values, and this backbone of reliability will enable them to execute events with absolute confidence, knowing the system will perform flawlessly every time.

“With such an extensive setup, Chopras has not only future-proofed their inventory but also positioned themselves as a leader capable of handling the most prestigious productions in the region - cementing their reputation as innovators, risk-takers and trusted partners in India’s growing live sound industry.”
