

Enjoy Division New Voice-Acoustic Distributor

Voice-Acoustic announces a new distribution partnership for Portugal. Enjoy Division, headquartered in Lisbon with operations in Porto, will represent the German loudspeaker manufacturer on the Portuguese market with immediate effect. As a dance music specialist for exclusive audio and custom editions, Enjoy Division covers distribution, installation and rental of Voice-Acoustic across Portugal from day one. The picture above shows Hugo Quintanilla Cons, CEO of Enjoy Division.

Enjoy Division is led by Hugo Quintanilla Cons, a pro audio specialist with 30 years in electronic music, live sound and premium equipment distribution across Europe. Certified in sound recording at Vauxhall University (London, 1996), he worked as a sound technician in the early rave and UK drum and bass scene and toured Europe with Massive Attack as sound technician and PA rigger.

In 2001 he moved to Ibiza, where Space Ibiza hired him during the Carl Cox, We Love Sundays era. He founded Pro Audio Ibiza and represented and distributed Funktion One on the island, running the local office and warehouse and supporting the installations at Space and Privilege. From 2016 he became the exclusive distributor of KV2 Audio in Spain. Between 2018 and 2019 he relocated to Palma de Mallorca to join Fluge, where he founded Fluge Club, a division specialised in sound installation and touring for clubs and discotheques. The outbreak of COVID interrupted the project.

In 2020 he moved to Barcelona: he founded Backline Pro DJ, a 400 m² DJ filming studio, and joined VTècnics en Ruta as project manager, the exclusive Clair Brothers rental partner and Voice-Acoustic distributor for Spain. Recent projects with Voice-Acoustic systems include the Monegros Desert Festival, where Voice-Acoustic systems powered "THE CLUB" stage inside an Airbus A330, and the Wet Deck Summer Series at the W Hotel Barcelona. With Enjoy Division, this experience now comes to Portugal.

"Hugo has worked with our systems for years and knows exactly what they can do in demanding club and festival environments. That he is now building the Portuguese market for Voice-Acoustic is a natural step. We could not wish for a better start in Portugal", said Jürgen Bachthaler, Head of International Sales, Voice-Acoustic.

Hugo Quintanilla Cons, CEO, Enjoy Division adds: "Portugal has a vibrant club and festival culture that deserves sound systems built without compromise. Voice-Acoustic delivers exactly that. I have seen what these systems do on stages like Monegros. Now we bring this quality to Portuguese venues, promoters and rental companies."
