Eurhythmics New HK Audio Distributor

German audio specialist HK Audio has named Eurhythmics as its new official distributor for Ukraine. This partnership strengthens the manufacturer’s presence in Eastern Europe and ensures optimal support for its customers in the region – from live sound professionals to systems integrators. The picture above shows Sándor Molnár, Managing Director of Eurythmics, and Dawid Somlo, HK Audio International Sales Manager Eastern Europe.

Eurythmics has been active in the professional audio equipment sector since 1991 and is one of the leading distributors in Ukraine’s audio industry. Its experienced team offers a comprehensive portfolio of services – from consulting and sales to technical system planning, installation and support for audio solutions of any size and complexity. This breadth of service makes the distributor a good fit for HK Audio and its broad portfolio of loudspeakers.

Sándor Molnár, Managing Director of Eurythmics, emphasizes the importance of the new partnership: "We are proud to have become the distributor for HK Audio, a brand synonymous with quality, innovation, and reliability. We look forward to a fruitful collaboration and to driving the future of audio excellence in Ukraine."

Eurythmics is the official representative of numerous high-profile international audio brands in Ukraine and several European countries under its wider group umbrella. This new partnership extends HK Audio’s relationship with the wider group, as Eurhythmics has been representing the manufacturer in Hungary since 2024.

“I am happy to welcome Eurhythmics LTD as the new official HK Audio partner in Ukraine,” adds Dawid Somlo, International Sales Manager Eastern Europe for HK Audio. “This collaboration marks the beginning of a new and promising chapter in the brand’s development and market positioning in the region. I have full confidence in the professionalism, expertise, and commitment of the Eurhythmics team. Their involvement will be instrumental in increasing awareness of HK Audio’s high-quality, German-engineered sound solutions, known for offering one of the best quality-to-price ratios on the market. At a time when Ukraine continues to face great challenges, we firmly believe that long-term planning and consistent business development are essential - not only to sustain the present but also to build a stronger future. Together with Eurhythmics, we look forward to growing the HK Audio presence across Ukraine and supporting audio professionals and music creators with the best tools to shape their sound and future.”

By working with Eurhythmics, HK Audio ensures that customers in Ukraine now have direct access to high-quality sound systems “Made in Germany” – accompanied by local expertise and first-class technical service.
