Executive Leadership Transition at Renkus-Heinz

Renkus-Heinz has announced an important evolution in its leadership. Effective November 16, 2026, Jonathan Phillips (pictured on the left) has assumed the role of President of Renkus-Heinz, and Monika Smetona (pictured left) has assumed the role of Chief Financial Officer while remaining a member of the board of directors. For more than four decades, Renkus-Heinz has been driven by a commitment to innovation, engineering excellence, and creating technologies that solve the most demanding challenges in professional audio. This transition positions the company to build on that legacy as it looks toward the future.

Jonathan joined Renkus-Heinz as Chief Revenue Officer, bringing extensive experience in technology, business growth, and developing new markets. Since joining the company, he has worked closely with the team to help shape its strategic direction and identify opportunities for continued global growth. “Renkus-Heinz has an extraordinary history, an incredibly talented team, a reputation built on delivering innovative audio solutions to customers around the world, and a strong product road map,” said Jonathan. “I am honored to take on the role of President. I look forward to building on that foundation, combining the best of a family business with industry best practices.”

foundation, combining the best of a family business with industry best practices." Monika and Jonathan have worked together for more than a year to ensure a seamless transition while preserving the values, relationships, and long-term vision that have shaped the company. "This is an exciting next step for Renkus-Heinz," said Monika. "I have tremendous confidence in Jonathan and in the team we have built. I look forward to supporting him as he leads the company forward, and to continuing to contribute to Renkus-Heinz in a new capacity."

With Jonathan at the helm, Renkus-Heinz remains committed to its employees, customers, partners, and the professional audio community as the company enters its next chapter of growth.
