

New HH Audio Products at ISE 2025

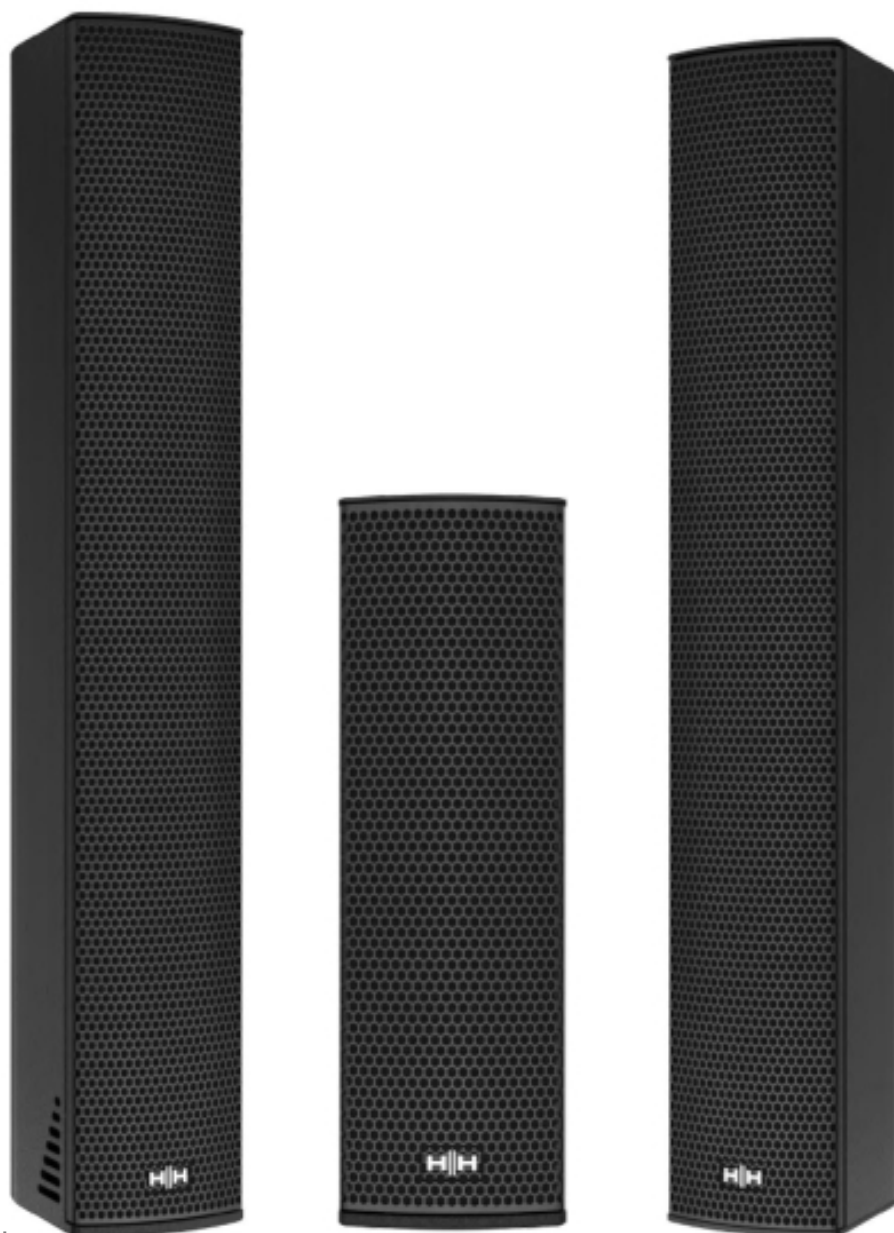

HH Audio, the British pro audio brand with more than five decades of experience in the design and manufacture of audio solutions, has announced the launch of a significant number of new products, as well as updates to some of its existing ranges. The picture above shows the Royal series. The new products reflect the company's drive to grow its business within the audio sector, with a focus on professional, commercial, and portable solutions which address the widest possible range of requirements.

Visitors to ISE Barcelona can catch first sight of these exciting new developments at Booth 7L150, Hall 7, where the HH Audio team will be on hand to discuss the comprehensive range of applications they address.

HH Audio Aptur

For commercial audio settings the elegant new Aptur range (pictured above) introduces ceiling, pendant, column array, and subwoofer loudspeakers, whilst the new CL Series of passive column array loudspeakers places cutting edge technology in a sleek and unobtrusive enclosure for solutions in acoustically challenging areas.

HH Audio CL Series

For the professional audio touring and installation sectors, HH Audio have introduced three new robust, reliable and competitive full system packages.
