QSC Q-SYS Technology Partner Program

QSC announces the Q-SYS Technology Partner Program, which enables software and hardware technology (vendor) partners to create market-ready solutions integrated with the Q-SYS Platform. Q-SYS Technology Partners can have their hardware and software solutions certified or validated and receive unique benefits and resources including dedicated development and technical support, marketing and training.

“The Q-SYS Partner Ecosystem connects systems, technologies, companies and people to redefine what’s possible, in the experiences AV can deliver, with the most flexible and robust cloud-manageable audio, video & control platform on the market,” says Jason Moss, Vice President Corporate Development & Alliances, QSC. “Our next step is to inspire, enable and support the growing number of Q-SYS hardware and software partners with a comprehensive program framework that unlocks the power of their technology integrations with Q-SYS. The Q-SYS Technology Partner Program is the first of several programs to help deliver on this vision and accelerate business and value with our partners and customers.”

The Q-SYS Technology Partner Program invests in partner success by providing unique value to help accelerate their business.

- Innovate with the Q-SYS Platform and become validated with official solution conduits into the Q-SYS Ecosystem, joining a thriving ecosystem.
- Collaborate directly with QSC to certify or verify solutions for market and ensure a seamless development process, as well as get ongoing support and maintenance.
- Accelerate your go-to-market reach through promotion, validation and
