Avation New RTI Distributor

RTI, a company with expertise in control and automation solutions, has announced the appointment of Avation as their distributor for both commercial and residential products in Australia. Founded in 2010 and based in Queensland, Australia, Avation offers smart home, audio/video, luxury lighting solutions, and more to technology integrators and home theater specialists across the region. Avation is also respected by dealers for offering excellent customer service, product training, as well as technical and system design support services in all aspects of residential and commercial control and automation, lighting, AV systems, and more.

“We are excited to reconnect with the highly professional team at Avation and very much look forward to increasing RTI’s visibility with integrators throughout Australia,” stated James Trumper, VP, International Sales at AVPro Global. “We are confident that our newest product introductions and award-winning Integration Designer software represent important opportunities for both new and existing dealers. Our fully scalable and customizable control solutions are problem solvers for both residential and commercial projects, helping integrators exceed client expectations every time.”

“The Avation team and I are looking forward to working with RTI, envisioning a successful venture presenting products and services to top integrators from one of the most trusted brands in control and automation,” explained Mark Hamilton
