Yamaha at ISE 2026

ISE 2026 will see Yamaha highlighting its position as one of the live and installed sound markets' most innovative brands, showcasing many new and updated products, as well as solutions which help to unlock all the potential of sound. Exhibiting at Booth 3F100, Yamaha is showing a new generation of products as part of its Commercial Installation Solutions ecosystem. These will include new audio networking, processing, amplification and control products, along with a focus on the significantly updated ProVisionaire programming and control software suite.

Also being showcased is Yamaha's revolutionary automated Voice Lift setup technology for conferencing and education, while live demonstrations of the company's Sound xR technology on the booth will highlight how Yamaha solutions can deliver practical and scalable immersive sound. As part of the ongoing development of the flagship live sound range, ISE will also showcase the latest firmware for Yamaha's RIVAGE PM series digital mixing systems.

Highlighting the versatility of Yamaha technology, new hardware products which bring benefits to sound engineers, performers, music and video producers, online streamers, influencers and gamers alike will also be making their European debuts. These will be complemented by Steinberg Media Technologies presenting the latest versions of its MixKey, Nuendo, SpectraLayers and WaveLab applications.

"At ISE 2026, we will be showcasing new products which target an extremely wide range of applications" says Marcus-Michael Mueller, Yamaha Manager Marketing Pro Audio Europe. "With immersive systems from the biggest live shows to the smallest commercial spaces; with significantly enhanced conferencing and education solutions and powerful yet easy-to-use products for producers and online users, we believe our presence at ISE will fire the imagination of all audio creatives."
