

UJAM KAYA

UJAM today unveils KAYA, the latest Beatmaker instrument inspired by the global rise of Afrofusion. Drawing on rhythms from afrobeats to amapiano, KAYA provides lively drum patterns, textures, and grooves that capture the movement and energy of West African-influenced music. It brings modern Afrofusion vibes to the toolkit of music creators and producers across pop, hip-hop, dance, and beyond.

Whether shaping smooth, laid-back rhythms or driving, energetic beats, it provides a way to quickly add authentic global character to any production. “Afrofusion has become a global phenomenon, and with KAYA our goal was to channel that energy into a vibrant rhythm engine,” said UJAM Product Manager Adam D’Agostino. “We designed it to spark creativity, helping producers kickstart ideas and shape their own unique sound.”
