

Arturia Pigments 7

Arturia unveils Pigments 7, the latest evolution of our flagship all-in-one software synthesizer for modern music creators. Designed for today's fast-moving production styles - from bass-focused club music to cinematic and experimental sound design - Pigments 7 enhances the instrument's signature multi-engine workflow with a sharper, more expressive and more immediate creative experience.

The latest update refines Pigments' core experience with an audio-reactive Play Page, new tone-shaping tools like the Rage, Ripple, and Reverb filters plus Corroder FX, and workflow upgrades that make it faster and more inspiring to design bold, mix-ready sounds. A refreshed, audio-reactive interface that helps users preview and understand a sound's character instantly, with responsive type-specific animations and quick-edit controls designed for fast modern workflows.

Three expressive new filters for bold, contemporary tone shaping:

- Rage: feedback-fueled distortion for powerful, driven textures
- Ripple: phase-based motion for fluid movement and character
- Reverb: timbre-thickening space and weight designed for modern bass design

A modulation-driven Corroder effect that adds controlled grit, from FM-tinged edges to filtered grain and wide distortion, while preserving the identity of the dry signal.

More New Features:

Arturia unveils Pigments 7

Tuesday, 16 December 2025 18:00

- Updated default amplitude behaviour with smoother, S-shaped envelopes that reduce clicks and deliver cleaner, harder-hitting transients.
- Visual modulation range displays for easier editing, plus optimized processing for more headroom in complex, layered, FX-heavy patches.
- 150 new presets, 50 wavetables, 30 samples, and 20 noises, alongside new in-app, use-case sound design tutorials.

For the end of the year, Pigments 7 will be available for 99 $/€ for non-users, with even greater savings for existing Arturia customers based on their registered products. This introductory price runs from December 16, 2025 to January 7, 2026 on the Arturia webstore. Explorations Vol.5 will also be available during the same period, priced at 29.99$/€. Previous Explorations volumes will be available for 19.99$/€.

www.arturia.com