IK Multimedia Heiga Studios Amp Series

Miami-based Heiga Studios has partnered with IK Multimedia to create the Heiga Studios Amp Series for ToneX - a new collection series of premium Tone Models captured from the studio’s extensive amp collection and engineered for modern recording and performance workflows.

Over two decades, Heiga Studios has amassed an impressive collection of microphones, analog gear, and amplifiers, alongside an extensive list of multi-platinum albums and Latin Grammy awards. At the helm is Heiga Studios' Co-Founder and Head of Audio & Music Production, Adrian Morales-Demori, who has honed his craft as an engineer and producer, working on thousands of records throughout his career.

“I’ve been a fan of IK Multimedia for many years - from using T-Racks at the beginning of my career to creating Heiga’s Dolby Atmos Studio with the MTM Immersive bundle and, of course, Amplitube and ToneX,” he explained. “So, when the opportunity arose to bring our amps through our microphones and analog gear to ToneX and ToneNet, I jumped at it to create the Heiga Amp Series.”

“For this collection, I worked countless hours over several months in the studio, testing multiple guitar amps, settings, and cabinets while refining microphone placements, phase alignment, mic preamps, EQ, and compressors,” he added. “The Heiga Studios Amp Series for ToneX gives people the option to use guitars that sound like they were recorded at Heiga Studios, even if you're across the world, recording in your bedroom, you could access his collection and use all these sounds," explained Mark Kondrat, Product Specialist and Sales Manager at IK Multimedia. "There are amazing amps in this collection - hard-to-find amps, vintage amps, boutique amps, things we sometimes don't have access to as musicians and guitar players," he furthered.

The Heiga Studios Amp Series for ToneX includes nine guitar collections and one bass collection, totalling 142 tones (featuring Adrian's personal style and genre-specific presets) based on some of the most iconic and rarest amps available at Heiga Studios.

What's included:

- Total Tone Models: 142 (across 10 collections)
- Collections: 9 guitar collections + 1 bass collection
- Content type: Premium Tone Models / Tone Models for ToneX (TONEX)
- Capture approach: Studio-engineered captures using Heiga Studios' microphones, analogue front-end, and curated signal chains (as described above)

The Heiga Studios Amp Series Tone Models are designed for use across the ToneX ecosystem, including ToneX software (Mac/PC) and compatible hardware such as TONEX Pedal and TONEX ONE, and can also be used within AmpliTube 5, where supported.

Malury Imbernon, Co-Founder and CEO of Heiga Studios, stated, "Heiga Studios has been honored to work with incredible artists and projects throughout its history. From our humble beginnings as an independent, minority woman-owned studio, this collaboration with IK Multimedia - creating our first Collection Series with Adrian's expertise - represents a meaningful milestone and the exciting possibilities ahead."

The Heiga Studios Amp Series for ToneX is available now as individual collections and as exclusive bundles via ToneNet and within the ToneX software marketplace.
