Nembrini Audio Tone Craft

Nembrini Audio's new Tone Craft Modular Studio plugin is a versatile audio processing environment delivering high-quality sound manipulation in both standalone and plugin formats. It gives users the freedom to combine modules such as effects, inputs and outputs in intuitive and efficient ways so audio workflow can be customized easily. Tone Craft allows users to access a formidable collection of integrated modules and combine them with their Nembrini Audio plugins in a unified and flexible environment with the following key features: -

A built in, comprehensive set of integrated Modules provides a powerful, ready to use tool kit for audio processing without the need for third-party plugins. Each preset can contain up to eight different Scenes with their own module states and routing. They can be changed manually or via the MIDI Program Change Messages for instant reworking during live performances or studio sessions. All Parameters of loaded modules are fully automated within the DAW and can also be controlled by the MIDI. The Master section is global processing area that applies to all scenes in a preset which remains constant when switching scenes, ideal for final processing and tonal consistency.

In addition, Main Output defines where the processed signal is sent and at what level, AUX Input allows additional external internal audio signals to be used, and AUX Output provides additional output paths. The Splitter allows a single audio signal to be split, while the Splitter Crossover divides single incoming audio signals in two and the Mixer allows two audio signal paths to be combined into a single output.

Tone Craft operates as both a standalone application or as a plugin within a DAW, making it suitable for both studio production and live performance. This modern tool for sonic explorers allows direct, real-time interaction with musical material giving users everything they need to uncover their sound. It is infused with the spirit of experimentation; there is no wrong way to use it!

The Tone Craft Modular Studio plugin desktop version is available at the introductory price of $19.99 (normally $49.99) until March 31st 2026. There is a free version with basic features and modules for users who already possess compatible Nembrini Audio plugins.
