

Nomad Factory Liquid Bundle III

Nomad Factory, known for its pioneering approach to audio plug-in development since the early 2000s, announces the release of Liquid Bundle III. This major upgrade brings new life to one of the brand's most enduring collections, combining modern technical compatibility with the unmistakable sonic character that has earned Nomad Factory a place in the workflows of thousands of musicians and engineers worldwide. The picture above shows the Liquid Compressor III.

Originally introduced nearly two decades ago, the Liquid Series plugins quickly became trusted tools for achieving warm, musical results in mixing and production. With Liquid Bundle III, these classic processors have been carefully updated to meet the demands of contemporary studios, while preserving the authentic tone and intuitive design that defined their legacy.

Liquid Bundle III features six essential effects - Liquid Compressor II, Liquid Gate II, Liquid Delays II, Liquid Mod II, Liquid Phase II, and Liquid Verb II - each delivering the same vintage-inspired sound that has shaped countless productions. The updated versions introduce:

- Fully resizable, vector-based interfaces with Dark and Light themes
- Native support for Apple Silicon processors
- VST3 compatibility for seamless integration in modern DAWs

- Optimized DSP performance and enhanced stability across macOS and Windows.
- See the Interactive Online User Manual

This commitment to modernization does not come at the expense of character: the plugins remain true to their origins, offering the rich coloration, musical behavior, and intuitive controls that have made them respected tools for engineers seeking a timeless sonic signature.

Nomad Factory and its parent company Plugivery have invested considerable time and resources to rebuild and optimize the Liquid Series while honoring a promise made nearly 20 years ago: to keep these products current and accessible. In keeping with this commitment, the upgrade to Liquid Bundle III is provided free of charge to all existing owners. New customers can download a fully functional demo version:

To celebrate this release, Nomad Factory is offering introductory pricing through the end of August 2025:

- Individual Liquid Series plugins: $19.99 each (List $99)
- Complete Liquid Bundle III: $54.99 (List $349)
