RME MILAN Certified Firmware

RME, a manufacturer of professional audio interfaces and converters, announces the latest release of its MILAN certified firmware. Built on IEEE open standards, MILAN ensures seamless interoperability amongst devices of different vendors in a time-sensitive network (AVB/TSN). With a free firmware update, RME devices join a growing number of products in the MILAN ecosystem.

This major firmware release, also brings improvements to our DANTE and MILAN M-Series devices, including the 12Mic and AVB Tool. A total of 12 firmware updates enhance functionality and user experience across our product lineup.
