

sE Electronics sE4400 & T2

sE re-introduces the sE4400 and T2, multi-pattern large-diaphragm true-condenser microphones. Hand-crafted with the highest attention to detail, built with a roadworthy die-cast all-metal housing, metal switches, and a rugged spring steel wire mesh grille that can take a beating during day-to-day tour life. The sE4400 and T2 appeal with their down-to-earth elegance, offering discrete electronics prioritizing the features you really need.

Featuring the same great sound and classic design, the improved sE4400 and T2 provide an updated shockmount – built with close miking techniques in mind, a reinforced spring steel mesh grille that can take a beating, a new polished finish, and a roadworthy die-cast all-metal housing.

The sE4400 comes with a hand-crafted, gold-sputtered, dual-diaphragm capsule, while the T2 comes with a hand-crafted, titanium-sputtered, dual-diaphragm capsule. With their versatility, the sE4400 and T2 are built to capture sound sources of all kinds while providing breathtaking clarity and precision, be it in demanding studio or fast-paced live environments.

As before, the sE4400 is offered as a factory-matched pair but for the first time ever and due to popular demand, the T2 is now offered in a matched-pair configuration too! Each sE4400 and T2 Factory-Matched Pair is rigorously tested, tuned in-house and sonically matched to ensure a virtually identical frequency response for balanced, consistent sound.
