

sE Electronics V7 X Black Edition

The V7 X has become a go-to choice for instrument miking thanks to its focused pickup, high SPL handling, and ability to deliver consistent, mix-ready results on stage and in the studio. Now, with the introduction of the black finish, it offers even more flexibility for modern setups where a clean, low-profile look matters. From guitar cabinets and snare drums to brass and beyond, the V7 X Black continues to deliver the same tight, controlled response that engineers rely on night after night. The all-metal construction, beveled spring steel grille, and integrated shockmount ensure it's ready for the realities of live performance without compromise.

The new black finish gives your customers an option that blends effortlessly into darker stage environments, broadcast setups, and content creation spaces where visibility and aesthetics play a bigger role than ever. With this addition, the V7 X lineup continues to evolve to meet real-world demands, offering the same trusted performance with a look that fits anywhere.
