

Telegrapher deadmau5 Collaboration

Telegrapher, a company known for its beautifully designed analog audio solutions, announces an exclusive partnership with iconic artist deadmau5 –one of the most celebrated electronic music producers and performers in the world. This collaboration has resulted in a limited-edition line of deadmau5-branded speakers, available now exclusively on deadmau5’s official online store.

The deadmau5 Edition speakers reflect the innovative spirit of both deadmau5 and Telegrapher, blending cutting-edge analog sound technology with striking visual design. The collection includes limited-edition models of Telegrapher’s GORILLA, FOX, and ELEPHANT analog speakers. Each speaker is accompanied by a certificate of authenticity signed by deadmau5 (Joel Zimmerman).

Telegrapher’s CEO, Erce Kaslioglu, shared his enthusiasm about the partnership: “Collaborating with deadmau5 has been an incredible journey. Joel’s relentless pursuit of perfection mirrors our commitment to crafting audio products that deliver precise and emotionally immersive sound. This speaker line is a testament to what’s possible when innovation and passion come together.”

The partnership underscores Telegrapher’s dedication to elevating the listening experience with products that seamlessly blend form and function. Designed for audio purists, sound enthusiasts, and fans of deadmau5, the deadmau5 Edition speakers deliver the clarity, depth, and emotional resonance that have become the hallmark of Telegrapher’s offerings.

For fans attending The NAMM Show in Anaheim, California, from January 23-25, 2025, Telegrapher will be showcasing these and other speakers in Booth #16119 at the Anaheim Convention Center. Visitors will have the opportunity to experience the innovation behind this unique collaboration and immerse themselves in sound like never before.
