

XILS-Lab unveils "The Eighty"

Plugiversity Distribution and XILS-Lab, a company known for its innovative audio software, announce the release of "The Eighty," a revolutionary virtual synthesizer inspired by the iconic CS-80. Known for its unmatched warmth, expressiveness, and analog depth, the CS-80 shaped the sound of a generation. Now, with The Eighty, XILS-Lab delivers a modern, accessible, and expanded recreation of this legendary synthesizer, designed for today's composers, producers, and sound designers.

The Eighty faithfully emulates the original CS-80's rich sound, meticulously modeling its oscillators, filters, and performance features. It also introduces cutting-edge tools like an advanced 2D mixer, extended arpeggiator, and zero-delay analog filters, pushing the boundaries of what a synthesizer can achieve. "The Eighty brings the soul of the CS-80 into the digital era," said [Your Name], CEO of XILS-Lab.

"We've preserved the essence of this iconic synthesizer while adding new dimensions for modern music production. It's the ultimate blend of vintage charm and futuristic creativity."

Key Features:

- Three Synthesis Lines: Faithfully reproduces the CS-80's linked high-pass and low-pass filters while adding a third line for expanded sound design possibilities.
- Zero-Delay Filters: Ensures pristine analog warmth with no digital artifacts.
- Advanced 2D Mixer: Seamlessly blend synthesis lines for dynamic and evolving textures.
- Extended Arpeggiator: Transform simple patterns into rhythmically complex sequences with step-based modulation and muting options.
- Performance Controls: Includes polyphonic aftertouch, velocity sensitivity, and a ring modulator for unparalleled expressiveness.
- Preset Manager: Explore over 500 professionally crafted presets, covering everything from cinematic soundscapes to cutting-edge EDM.
- Professional Effects: Delay, Phaser, Reverb, and EQ for studio-grade sound shaping.

The Eighty is ideal for

- Film Composers: Craft lush orchestral textures and evocative soundscapes.
- Electronic Producers: Create hypnotic arpeggios, soaring leads, and pulsating basslines.
- Ambient Artists: Design evolving drones and atmospheric pads with ease.

The Eighty is available now at an introductory price of just $89 (regular list price: $179). This special promotion runs from Tuesday, January 14, 2025, through Friday, January 31, 2025. Don't miss this opportunity to experience the future of synthesis at an unbeatable value.
